

Thank You

FOR ALL YOUR HELP!

Dear WYA Friend,

I am Paula, a WYA Advocacy intern originally from Colombia. I study law at the University of La Sabana and currently work for the World Youth Alliance.

I got to know about the organization when I was interested in doing an internship abroad. The University of La Sabana had signed an agreement with WYA months prior to the call, so I took the opportunity and applied. I was selected after a long admission process. I joined the organization on January 7, 2020, did the Certified Training Program, and then became a CTP Trainer. I'm currently working as the program officer for the Caribbean and Latin American region.

As an intern during COVID-19, I had the opportunity to meet incredible people from different parts of the world and had unique and memorable experiences, which I will never forget. I went to the United Nations and actively participated on behalf of the organization, attended various leadership events, and advocated for human rights for women. Every day I learned different things, met new people, and lived unforgettable experiences and moments.

I want to thank all the generous people who made this experience the best of my life. Thank you to all the friends, members, donors and team of the World Youth Alliance, but specially to the Seabright Family who made this possible.

Sincere gratitude,
